NORTHERN ILLINOIS COMPONENT

A Practical Review and Update in Oral Pathology

Spend a day with the distinguished oral pathologist, Dr. John R. Kalmar, and ease your mind about the detection, diagnosis and management of oral lesions encountered in daily practice. You will be shown how to conduct and document a comprehensive clinical evaluation plus how to recognize the signs and symptoms of common as well as significant oral diseases. Special emphasis will be given to: 1) vesiculo-erosive conditions, 2) infectious diseases, 3) radiographic abnormalities, 4) oral cancer and pre-cancerous lesions, and 5) medication-related osteonecrosis of the jaws. Clinical cases will be used in an interactive format to illustrate the differential diagnostic process and reinforce current concepts in disease pathogenesis and treatment.

CE CREDITS

7 hours of lecture credit may be used towards FAGD, MAGD or relicensure for dentists and hygienists.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Presenting a program of this nature is a group effort, and would not be possible without the assistance of many individuals and companies. A complete listing of contributing companies will be available at the program site.

Course Objectives:

- To review a standard approach to clinical evaluation of the dental patient, including both visual and tactile evaluation of the face, neck and oral cavity
- To understand the medico-legal value of recording pertinent clinical findings, development of the differential diagnostic and patient follow-up
- To understand the clinical features and treatment of immunologic disorders from canker sores to pemphigus vulgaris and common oral infections
- To discuss features of medication-related osteonecrosis of the jaw (MRONJ), including latest drug associations, as well as treatment and prevention strategies
- To review radiographic features of common and significant oral pathologic conditions
- To review current concepts of oral cancer and pre-cancerous lesions, including epidemiologic evidence for risk factors and the role of human papilloma virus (HPV)
- To understand the scientific evidence behind commercially-available devices as adjuncts in the detection of oral cancer
